

Requirements for Membership Discounts

Health Authority Membership

Health Authority Members are employed full-time by a regulatory authority or body. This category of membership excludes government contractors and manufacturers wholly or partly owned by governments. This membership is offered to all qualifying individuals at no cost. If you have an obligation that precludes you from accepting free membership, a paid option is available to you.

Early Career Professional Membership

Early Career Professional Members are new to the bio/pharmaceutical manufacturing area, with fewer than five years of professional experience in industry, or within five years post-graduation from an accredited college or university. Applicants will be asked to provide one of the following to demonstrate eligibility: a current CV, resume, or social media account showing career history, a letter from your corporate HR Department, a copy of your graduation transcript, or a declaration letter from a University Bursar's or Registrar's Office.

Student Membership

Student Members are currently enrolled full-time at an accredited college or university. This member type is not available to individuals also currently employed in the pharmaceutical/biopharmaceutical industry. Please provide proof of full-time enrollment.

Academic Membership

Academic Members are full-time faculty members at an accredited college or university. This member type is not available to individuals also currently employed in the pharmaceutical/biopharmaceutical industry. Please provide proof of full-time employment.

Emerging Economy Membership

Emerging Economy Members reside in a country that is not recognized by the World Bank as a High-Income Economy. Refer to the list of qualifying countries to see if you are eligible for this membership type.

Retired Membership

Retired Members have fully retired from any role in the industry.